STAFF REPORTER city.bhopal@fpj.co.in

Former chief minister Digvijaya Singh's photo 'holding' collar of a cop during zila panchayat president election here on Friday went viral on social media triggering sharp reaction from BJP and demand of action against the Congress leader.

Temper frayed leading to ruckus at zila panchayat building with Congress leaders accusing the BJP leaders including ministers Vishwas Sarang and Bhupendra Singh and also MLA Rameshwar Sharma of allegedly misusing government machinery to influence and intimidate the zila panchayat members.

The temperature soared when Congress Rajya Sabha Member Digvijay Singh, former Union Minister Suresh Pachauri tried to stop the vehicle of minister Bhupendra Singh. The Congress leaders claimed that the three women members of Zila Panchayat who were sitting in the car of Bhupendra Singh belonged to Congress. They claimed that the BJP had lured the Congress-supported members to its side at the eleventh hour of the voting.

The atmosphere became tense when Digvijaya entered into a heated argument with a senior cop after he was denied entry into the office premises. He almost tried to become physical with the cop. Later a picture of Digvijaya wherein his hands are seen on the collar of cops went viral on social media.

The act of Digvijaya invited sharp criticism from BJP. Even Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan reacted strongly by tweeting that such behaviour does not befit a former chief minister. "Victory and defeat goes hand in hand in democracy but such kind of behaviour of your holding the collar of a cop is highly objectionable. Who gave this right to you," he tweeted. However, ex Congress Corporator Amit Sharma defended the former CM saying that Digvijaya never intended to hold a cop's collar.
